VICTION SYPER

CURING A PAIN IN THE SIDE.

Paul Kane, the American artis , describes a surgical operation as practiced by the indians in British Columbia: About loo'clock at night I strolled into the village, and on heating a gre t more in one of the lodges, I entered it and found an old woman supporting one of the hands mest state of nudity. Cross-legged and naked, in the middle of the room, sat the medicine man with a wooden dish of water before him; twelve or fifteen other men were sitting round the lodge. The object in view was to cure the girl of a disease affecting her side. As soon as my presence was noticed, a place was cleared for me to sit down. The officiating medicine man appeared in a state of profuse perspiration from the exertions he had used, and soon took his seat among the rest as if quite exhausted; a younger medicine man than took his place in front of the bowl and close beside the patient. Throwing off his blanket he commenced singing and gesticulating in the most violent manner while the other kept time by beating with little sticks on the hollow wooden bowls and drums, singing continually. After exercising himself in this manner for about half an hour, until the perspiration ran down his body, he darted suddenly upon the young woman, catching hold of her side with his teeth and shaking her for a few minutes. while the patient seemed to suffer great agony. He then relinquished his hold and cried out he had got it, at the same time holding his hands to his mouth; after which he plunged them into the water and pretended to hold down with great difficulty the disease which he had extracted, lest it might spring out and returned to its victim. At length, having obtained the mastery over it, he turned round to me in an exulting manner and held something up between the finger and thumb of each band which had the appearance of a piece of cartilage, whereupon one of the Indians sharpened his knife. and divided it in two, leaving one end in each hand. One of the pieces he threw into the water, and the other into the fire, accompanying the action with a diabolical noise which none but a medicine man can make. After which he got up perfectly satisfied with himself, although the poor patient seemed to me anything but relieved by the violent treatment she had undergone.

SPEAK WELL OF OTHERS.

Were we to give a receipt for rendering every neighborhood a comparative paradise, it would be "speak well of others." Short as it is may appear, and simple as it seems, if universally adopted, it would be found omnipotent for good, and productive of untold happiness. But how often are we pained to find the opposite disposition indulged. In almost every neighborhood the vile slanderer may be found, sowing the seed of pain and sorrow. The hard earned reputation of the gray-haired sire is frequently assailed, the brilliant prospects of the ambitious youth are darkened, and the fond hopes of the virtuous maiden are often blasted by the withering remarks of the malicious calumniator .-None, it is true, are entirely faultless, and we may, with much truth remark, there are none so bad as not to possess some good quali-ties, and as charitable beings it is our duty to mention their faults only privately to the erring one. Then, if done in a friendly, sympathising manner, it may prove salutary. When this Christian like habit prevails, a halo of moral grandeur will encircle the earth and "peace on earth, good will to ject of this suit is obtain a divorce by the plaintiff, men." will be the language of every heart.

A CURIOUS FACT.

some water contained in a hyacinth glas, and so permitted to remain without being disturbed, it will, in a few months, burst and throw a root down into the water, and shoot upwards its tapering stem, with beautiful little green leaves. A young oak tree, growing in this with inserted in the Alexandria Gazette, a newspay on the mantle shelf of a room, is a very paper published in the city of Alexandria, once a way on the mantle shelf of a room, is a very interesting object. We have seen several oak trees, and also a chesnut tree, thus growing, but all of them, however have died after a few months, probably owing to the water not being changed sufficiently often to afford them the necessary quantity of nourishment from the matter contained in it.

THE SONG OF "THE OLD ARM CHAIR."-- It is estimated that this song, set to music, has cleared the publisher over $200,000. The following receipt shows its original cost:

"Received, May 14, 1841, of Mr. Charles Jeffrys, the sum of two pounds two shillings for copyright of words of a song written by me, entitled "The Old Arm Chair," music ELIZA CLOK. by Mr. Hine.

The song has since cost a Mr. Kyle, of London, about $10,000, (costs of suit.) in contesting an injunction restraining him from printing and selling it.

Taxely Wir .- When Sar Walter Scott was at school, a boy in the same class was asked by the dominie what part of speech with was. "A noun sir," said the boy.gue, "what example can you give of such a thing?" I can tell you, "sir," interrupted "You know there's a verse in the Bible which says, "they bound Sauron with INDEN WHISKEY .- This WHISKEY is I made in the old fashioned copper still, by donble distillation, just beyond the summit of the Blue Ridge, in Warr-neounty, Va., near the line of Fauquier, where the softness and purity of the mountain spring water, and the quality of the rye, constitute important elements in making the Whiskey for which this locality has been long celebrated. is perfectly pure, beyond all doubt, being made ex-clusively of rye, hops, and barley malt, with the utmost care. The quantity made is limited, and bought principally for private use, by gentlemen connoisseurs or the surrounding counties, who are critically nice in baying by a stock for improvement. A small consignment has lately been made to MARSHALL & WARD, of Alexandrin; or it can be procured direct, through correspondence with DR. FISHER, of Linden, Warren County, Va.

COPPER PLATE ENGRAVER, Washington, jy 22 1y &c. &c. &c. CAUTION.—We beg leave to caution purcha-sers of our choice OLD MONONGAHBLA WHISKIES against the deception and petty fraud which is practiced by certain parties in this city and in Baltimore, who have appropriated to them selves exact copies of the Star Brands, and designed by us to distinguish our Old Whiskeys. We can assure our friends and customers, that the unrivalled quality, everywhere acknowledged, of our choice OLD WHISKIES, cannot be equalled by these ingenious invaders of our rights. Our new establishment, Gibsonton Mills, on the Monongabela River, gives us unequalled facilities for making Whiskey of the choicest kind, from malted and kiln stried grain. Purchasers of our Old Whiskies will please to notice, the words Gibsonton Mills and John Gibsos, Soxs & Co., are inserted in the new Brands which we now adopt; and we deem it a duty to our customers and ourselves, to give notice, that we will presente and expose any person or persons who may hereafter copy or use our Brands.
